EIP/ Early Intervention Program	Diversion Program that is offered to early offenders who have a minor non-violent criminal record and have crimes closely linked to their addictions to illegal drugs (most often opiates). One year intense program focuses on substance abuse treatment, testing, and attendance at self-help groups. By closely monitoring participants, criminal justice system is able to intervene earlier on than traditional probation violations. Upon a violation, participants often have more treatment options due to the earlier interventions. Program can offer additional support for those who struggle to remain abstinent by assisting participants to get into detox services, sober/ recovery homes and other services. The goal is to help participants obtain long term success and sobriety and at the same time minimizing their future risk of overdose. Successful participants obtain a chance to have their case dismissed and expunged clearing their record.	Carroll County States Attorney’s Office / CCSO
